Hi Wiebke,

As we discussed yesterday, I took the document that Chris edited and added my comments/edits. (The email attachment relates to one of my comments and is an FYI.) I am also including the other individuals that were on your email from the 18th. Please excuse my tardiness, and let me know if you have any questions.

Overall, a very nice initial draft!

Thanks for the opportunity to comment.

Subject: MosquitoMate / Wolbachia comments - response

Are either you aware of the measurement of penetrance of either of the Wolbachia products? I know Oxitec mentioned their penetrance was less than 100% (95%?), but I do not recall if Mosquitomate mentioned it or not. Just necessary to address in comments.

I am attaching the comments document with some of my own comments in track changes (blue font). Please review and comment / edit as needed.

Thanks
Chris
